

Imperial College
London

Black Graduate Careers Conference

Thursday 23rd June 10:00 – 18:30

Imperial College London, City and Guilds lecture theatre and exhibition space

The Black Graduate Career Conference aims to empower young Black students to make informed choices about the next step in their career journeys.

Employers Exhibition and Networking – an opportunity to meet a range of businesses that are looking for graduates and to find out more about their internship programmes and career opportunities.

Jonathan Crawford,
Executive Director at
Goldman Sachs

Keynotes

Stephanie Travers, Formula 1 PETRONAS trackside fuel engineer

Jonathan Crawford, Executive Director at Goldman Sachs

Workshops on the day:

- What are the benefits of studying a postgraduate degree and how to choose the right one for you
- How a postgraduate degree provides a range of routes to becoming an entrepreneur or to work with a social enterprise
- How to maximise your chances of getting your dream job and having a successful career in Business/industry with special guests Emeritus Professor Sir Geoff Palmer and Professor Trevor Williams

Drinks and Refreshments will be provided during Lunch and at the networking event at the end of the day

Register here to get your free ticket today!